God, Have Mercy On America

JULY 8, 2015 BY SONY ELISE

A reader of my personal blog recently made the following comment: “Now to the Christian. Quit praying for God to bless America or any other country that does not honor God. Start praying for God to have mercy. Have mercy on the professing Christians who are being overcome by the cares of this world.”

This is something that has been on my mind for a while. I love the song, “God Bless America,” and yet America has turned her back on the Almighty God, so how can we continue to expect His blessings?

I am thankful to have been born in this country, and I’m grateful for the freedoms I have; yet, one by one, those freedoms are being taken away, and I believe this will continue to be the trend.

I am praying fervently for this country. I pray for God’s mercy on this next election. More than anything, I pray for a leader who fears God and will seek Him. At the same time, I realize God may not answer my prayer. You see, many of those who call themselves Christians have forgotten their first love. They have allowed television, business, relationships, family, activities, even ministry to replace the God they used to love. They no longer have time for Him because there are too many other things that consume their time. How can God bless a country when His own people are no longer living Godly lives? As I write this, I am close to tears. I am so burdened for the state of the Church in America and, yes, I know that Revival must begin with me. I am not pointing fingers. I too have been guilty at times of “serving God” while neglecting the God I serve; yet I realize that, if I am going to survive in this ever-changing world, I must cry out to Him now like never before. I can’t afford to “relax.” This is a battle but one which, ultimately, must be won in the Spirit.

This weekend, while I thank God that I can still worship freely in the church of my choice, I am also sober-minded as I realize the day may come when this is no longer an option. In spite of Lee Greenwood’s assumption, they CAN take our freedom away, and I believe they will continue to do so if God doesn’t intervene.

So, this weekend, I am praying, “God, have mercy on America. Draw Your people back to You. Continue to show me the areas in my life that don’t please You so that I can be a better witness and a Light while you give me breath. Help me not to waste my days but to spend them giving glory and honor to You and drawing ever closer to You continually. Thank You for allowing me to be born in this country. Please grant us a leader who will make decisions based on Your Word. Put our priorities where they need to be, with You at the center of everything we do, say, vote on, etc. Thank You, Father. You are so good to us, and I know that whatever happens in this next year or two will be for our eternal good and Your ultimate glory. Amen!”

The U.S. Bill of Rights - The First Amendment:

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.

In America we advocate freedom of religion, yet if a teacher places a Bible on her desk, if a student bows his head to pray in school, or cheerleaders display Bible verses on their posters, they are accused of violating separation of church and state.

The phrase “separation of Church and State” cannot be found in the Constitution or the Declaration of Independence. The phrase first appeared in a letter written by Thomas Jefferson to the Danbury Baptist Association of Connecticut in 1801... to reassure the Danbury Baptists that the First Amendment prohibited the government from trying to control religious expression. In short, the First Amendment was intended to keep government out of regulating religion, but it did not keep religion out of government or the public square.

How does a student praying over his lunch mean the same thing as Congress making a law? The answer: it doesn't. The First Amendment meant Congress is limited from setting up a national denomination and Congress is limited from prohibiting the free exercise of religion. The First Amendment does not limit faith or the people, only the government.

The First Amendment was created by America's Founders because of their desire to avoid something like the government-run Church of England.

In fact, it was not just the government of England they longed to be different from, but they were also striving to be different from the way that churches and government had operated across most of Europe for the previous thousand years, for most nations at that time had state-established and state-controlled churches.

This important to know because just like in Daniel 10 where God's angel had to fight the prince (evil) of Persia, I believe America is deep in a spiritual fight. Part of this war is to weaken the people of God. Hosea 4:6 - 'My people perish for lack of knowledge.'

We must grow in truly knowing God & His Word. We need to grow in our hunger & search for truth. Jesus Himself tells us in John 8:32 - 'And you will know the truth, and the truth will set you free.' The Apostle Paul tells us in Galatians 5:1 - 'So Christ has truly set us free. Now make sure that you stay free, and don't get tied up again in slavery to the law.'

The program is designed to serve children who are 9 months old through the time they begin attending school. Please contact me, Annette Kammer or the church office for details. Thank you for your support and generosity to this ministry. I am looking forward to the opportunity of serving and working with our church to share the love of Jesus with these children.

Mission Moment

by Pastor Bryce Formwalt
Director of Mission Growth

If You Build It...?

Growing up in Eastern Iowa in the late 1980s, it was big news when a major motion picture began filming a baseball movie on a family farm. In the movie, Field of Dreams, a mysterious voice is heard from beyond: “If you build it, he will come.” As the story unfolds, the lead character plows under his crops mid-growing season to build a baseball field. Then from out of the cornfields beyond centerfield appeared a historic team from baseball lore.

The cultural impact of Field of Dreams was significant. Visionary leaders seized upon the infamous movie line and adapted it for their own organizations: “If you build it, they will come.” Even pastors and churches adopted the mantra as ministries scaled bigger and better programs and church facilities, trusting in the idea that new and bigger would attract more people. To some extent, this approach seemed to work! As churches engaged in expanding and improving their ministries and facilities, more people were attracted to it and began engaging with churches in new ways.

Despite these successes, there were also unintended consequences. Fast forward two decades and churches discovered that what once worked was no longer working. Successful ministries needed to be constantly refreshed and renewed with the latest and greatest programs or building renovations to keep people coming. A consumer mentality crept into the church as church attendees began “church shopping” and congregations felt the urge to “compete” with one another.

Church growth began to feel like chasing after a pot of gold at the end of a rainbow. How many churches “built it” but the people did not come? While God certainly used the church growth movement, we now recognize the ways it detracted from an authentic faith journey of following Jesus.

What if the church adopted a new mantra based upon an old idea: “If you love them...” How would you complete that sentence? What do you think the result of sharing Jesus’ love might be? For me it would be this: “they will know they are loved by God.” I believe that God is calling us to shift our focus from building better programs and facilities just to entice people to come to the church to hear the Good News towards equipping and mobilizing the people of the church to love people and engage in Gospel mission in their everyday lives. #LoveWorks2024

Scholarships Awarded for 2024-2025

Each year the Endowment Committee has the responsibility to issue scholarships to members of the congregation. Our committee consists of four elected members: Chair-Margaret Reus, Recording secretary-Bob Mayne, Committee treasurer-Paul Honig, Member-Janice Wright, Council representative-Johnette Dixon, Congregational treasurer-Pam Westbrook.

We had four GRADUATING HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS apply this year. On May 19, 2024, they were each awarded a $1000 scholarship to attend a college or university:

Danica Lopez-SWTJC

Cooper Molitor-Tarleton State University

Cambry Reus- TAMU

Haiden Wiley- Texas Tech

Sam and Modine Meyer Scholarship: In 2003, the heirs of Sam and Modine Meyer set up a scholarship fund in their parent's name. The fund is given out each year in a $500 scholarship. This year we are awarding the 19^h and final scholarship given in their names. This year the $500 Scholarship is awarded to Cambry Reus.

The committee was impressed with the applications from 10 Currently Enrolled College Students. Many students don't follow through with their original goals, so when they have the tenacity to keep up their grades and continue their studies, we think they should also be commended. Each were given a $1000 scholarship:

Jennifer Cowan – Texas Tech

David Cowan– Texas Tech

Jules Cowan– Texas Tech

Coy Jacobs- TAMU

Kolten Lentz -TAMU

Kaden Lentz -TAMU

Cassidy Reus-TAMU

Garrett Scott-Texas State Tech. College

Anna Weimer-SWTJC

Jamie Zinsmeyer-TAMU-CC

Without the generosity of the congregation, we would not be able to award these scholarships. As the Fund grows, we receive more earnings and dividends.
